Rabbi's Message

Dear Friends,

Happy New Year! Though new years tend to be a time when we look forward, I'd like to begin by looking back over our shoulders to a time in the not so distant past. What an incredible Chanukah we celebrated in our community! On Friday night December 11, more than sixty of us from across the south suburban Jewish community joined together for a family service. It was an absolute pleasure to begin by lighting the sixth Chanukah candle together, and to have more than a dozen students from our religious school, Beit AmiChai School of Jewish Education, lead us in songs and prayers. There was truly a warm, festive, and fun atmosphere in the air, and I believe that a good time was had by all!

Then, on December 13, nearly one hundred of us gathered together on the last night of Chanukah, where we lit candles, ate a fabulous Chanukah feast, and danced to the music of the Klezmedics! It was a great evening filled with song and joy, but one experience in particular stands out for me.

Just before the festivities began, we invited anyone who wished to join us for a ceremony marking the installation of two mezuzot: one on the back door of our building, and one on the door to our chapel. The chapel, which was completed last year, has become a wonderful space for worship and gathering; a warm and intimate space that we have come to love. But it had yet to be formally dedicated, and what better time to dedicate a space than on the holiday whose name, Chanukah, means dedication?

President's Message

Going on a diet.....

Exercising.....Quitting smoking.....

These are the typical New Year resolutions.

Sometimes they stick, but more often they fail. Most chalk it up to human nature, but I believe these resolutions fail because one has to look beyond and behind the plan. For example, perhaps one shouldn't just resolve to quit smoking. Maybe one has to examine why quitting is so difficult. Thirty years ago, when I quit smoking, I realized that I smoked whenever I felt uncomfortable. I needed to look at why I was so often uncomfortable.

It is no secret that I have a weight problem. One day I had a long quiet talk with myself about my eating habits. "Carole, why do you binge food in the evening?" And the still, clear voice came back to me, "Because it is all I have!! Please don't take it away from me!" Wow! What a shock! I didn't think a simple diet would help this issue. I was pretty certain that an exploration of my loneliness or my feelings of an empty life would have more far-reaching results. How would I explore this issue, where would I begin? Perhaps a weekly visit, or maybe even one visit to Overeaters Anonymous would help me in coping. Perhaps marking every time I mindlessly reach into a bag of pretzels would keep me more mindful. Maybe checking my blood sugar ahead of time would help. So.....one of my resolutions will be to listen to that still clear voice within me.

I asked temple members to share their resolutions. Several people responded that they would like to organize and make better use of their time. One person said that she might be buried in paper until June. Several others wrote that they will work toward good

With the help of our presidents, Carole Fefferman, Sherry Dieckman, and Steve Horowitz, as well as Rabbi Emerita, Ellen Dreyfus, we put up two mezuzot, and jointly consecrated the space. This short ceremony, consisting of readings and prayers, was truly meaningful as we reaffirmed our partnership, and dedicated our chapel as a place for gathering and prayer, song, and sacred work.

As we enter into a new year, it is my hope that this light and spirit guide our way. We are especially grateful to Laura Eisenwasser, Edna Pardillo, and Stacey DeFilippo for all of their hard work on the joint Chanukah party! And we thank Sigi and Bo'az Rafalovitz, as well as Jake Eisenwasser, for the tasty treats we enjoyed! Thank you to the Klezmedics for their lively and fun music, and thank you to everyone who helped set up, clean up, or anywhere before, after, or in between! And since it is a new year, we hope you'll join us as we celebrate the Jewish New Year of the trees, Tu Bishvat, together in community! Sunday, January 24, at 7:00pm.

Wishing you and yours a happy, healthy, and fulfilling 2016!

School News

Beit AmiChai students had a wonderful

Chanukah this year. During Hebrew School students participated in candle lighting with both Rabbi Caplan and Rabbi Harari. During the BYBS Chanukah service the Youth Choir and the students from Religious School participated in singing and making the evening truly festive for everyone. Our Sunday School Chanukah party was attended by students from Temple Beth El and Congregation Beth Israel in Munster. It was great to have everyone together and everyone had a good time celebrating Chanukah!

Thank you to Sigy Rafalovitz for making her incredible Sufganyot for the party, always an amazing treat! Thank you to all for the help I received from the Room Parents and the Religious School Board Committee.

Religious school is on winter break until January 5, 2016.

Please join us at our next Family Shabbat on January 8, 2016 at 7:00 p.m. at Temple Anshe Sholom. Our Youth Choir will be singing.

Beit AmiChai has a cookie dough fundraiser underway please contact the school for more information.
