Rabbi's Message

Just a few weeks ago, our community gathered with the Jewish community of Northwest Indiana in observance of Yom HaSho'ah, Holocaust Remembrance Day. A difficult and painful day, Yom HaSho'ah has increased in importance in our day and age, both because survivors of the Holocaust are almost all gone and because of the alarming rate at which acts of hatred, racism, and Antisemitism are on the rise in our country and beyond. The Holocaust has long stood as the paradigm of genocide. For Jews worldwide, it was undoubtedly the most spiritually challenging event in the twentieth century. Upon being liberated, survivors' reactions ranged from Rubenstein's statement that "God was dead," to those whose faith was strengthened or restored as the result of their survival. One such story, a story of faith restored, took place in Buchenwald, and is retold in The Shavuot Anthology by Philip Goodman:

The Torah Is Accepted Again in Buchenwald
S.B. Unsdrofer

"Strangely enough it was on the pyre of the camp, in that hellhole of Buchenwald, that I received my first injection of vitamin R – Religious Revival.

A few days before our scheduled departure of Czechoslovakia, the camp loudspeakers blazed out an announcement that the Jewish chaplain to the U. S. forces would be conducting the religious services in the evening to mark the festival of Shavuot – the anniversary of the receiving of the Law by the Jewish people on Mount Sinai.

Having lost my handwritten diary, as well as my Haggadah, during the march from Nieder-Orschel to Buchenwald, this announcement came as a pleasant yet disturbing surprise.

Since my childhood I had always looked forward eagerly to the arrival of our wonderful and inspiring festivals, and particularly so in the tragic war years. But I wondered whether we weren't put to a test too soon. Who among those thousands of physical and mental cripples would want to attend services and prayers so soon after their tragic experiences? The festival of the Torah! Within a few weeks after liberation, religion, which had seemed to do so little for us, was now challenging us and our loyalties.

On that evening, Buchenwald staged a fantastic demonstration of faith and loyalty to God. Thousands upon thousands of liberated Jews crowded into the specially vacated block for the first postwar Jewish religious service to be held on the soil of defeated Germany. The Mussulmänner, the cripples, the injured, and the weak came to demonstrate to the world that the last ounce of their strength, the last drop of their blood, and the last breath of their lives belonged to God, to Torah, and to the Jewish religion. As Chaplain [Herschel] Schachter intoned the evening prayers, all the inmates in and outside the block stood in silence, reaccepting the Torah whose people, message, and purpose Hitler's Germany had attempted to destroy. Jewish history repeated itself. Just as our forefathers who were liberated from Egypt accepted the Law in the desert, so did we, the liberated Jews of Buchenwald, reaccept the same Law in the concentration camps of Germany."

May this story inspire us as we approach Shavuot, the festival of the giving of our Torah. May we, living in the midst of gun violence, racism, Antisemitism, and war, find new hope and meaning in the words of people's history and our laws. May the Torah serve as our guide to chesed, righteousness, and g'milut chasadim, acts of loving kindness, and may we find comfort and strength as our community gathers in celebration of Shavuot, the festival of the giving of the Torah and the moment that a group of freed slaves, our ancestors, became a nation united in faith.

Wishing you a meaningful festival, and looking forward to seeing you in person or on Zoom:

Women of Shir Tikvah News

Hard to believe that it's June and we are finishing another year. The Women of Shir Tikvah started the year on Zoom and we were able to do some events in person. We had a successful book review with Nancy Burrows as our facilitator. We thank JUF and the Kehillah grant committee for funding two projects. The first was a Paper Midrash project where we made our own Golem on Zoom with the help of Isaac and Rabbi Shawna Brynjegard-Bialik. Thank you to Bonnie Mosbacher for bringing this project to us. It was a fun event. The second event was in person with Natasha Lehrer Lewis of Esther's Place. Twenty-three women learned how to dye silk fabric and make our own tallit or scarves. In April, we were able to hold our annual Community Second Seder.

We held our elections for officers in May. Gayle Weil will serve as President and Carole Fefferman will be our Vice-President. Harlene Friedman will be our treasurer and Ruth Friedman will serve as our secretary. These women will be installed at our closing event.

Speaking of our closing event, this will take place on Wednesday, June 15 at 1:30 pm. Rex Newell of Rex's Antiques will be on hand to give us information on items we all have in possession that may have some value. He will look and give value to one item that each participant brings. At this event, Rabbi Harari will install our officers and we will have dessert to celebrate. See the flyer in the bulletin to register. Hope to see you there.

Wishing everyone a safe and happy summer.

Gayle

 HONORING
Fran Givertz

We are proud to present Mimi Lemay, international transgender activist and author of What We Will Become: A Mother, a Son and a Journey of Transformation. Mimi's story is a mother's memoir of her transgender child's odyssey, and her own journey outside the boundaries of the ultra-Orthodox Jewish faith and culture that shaped her. Mimi will be in conversation with Lisa Hostein, Executive Editor of Hadassah Magazine. We are delighted that Power Lunch 2022 will honor our own Fran Givertz for her unwavering service, philanthropy, and leadership with Hadassah Chicago-North Shore.

Can't attend? Make a donation in Fran's honor or purchase prize drawing tickets online at www.hadassahmidwest.org/CNSPL. You do not need to be present to win.

See reverse for more information on luncheon, including meal options, book pre-order, and our Event Chairs and Host Committee.

*Proof of COVID-19 vaccination status, including booster, if eligible, is required to attend this event. Please have your vaccination card with you or on your smartphone. You will be required to show it in order to enter. You will also be required to sign a Hadassah waiver form at the time of entry. Wearing a mask is optional to attend this event.
