

Rabbi's Message

I shared these wise words from author Noah BenShae back in 2017. As we enter the new month of Elul and prepare for the High Holiday season, I share them once again in the hopes that they offer you food for thought and continued inspiration:

“This is a season when we are compelled to turn and look at ourselves even as we learn that sometimes the only thing worse than a bad mirror is a good one.

In pursuit of forgiveness, most of us turn to God. Most of us also think of forgiveness as a vertical line, an up-and-down exchange, between us and Heaven. But while the first five commandments are between God and Humankind, the second five Commandments are between us and each other. Consequently, to God – who certainly created the world out of love not compulsion for who could have compelled God to do anything – forgiveness is a horizontal line and is premised on our being forgiving to others. However, our ability to be other-forgiving requires us to be self-forgiving. The first-stage healing is neither vertical nor horizontal, but an inner journey.

So, for any of us seeking forgiveness, here is the map: Take the inner path to self-forgiveness, which allows you access to the horizontal path of other-forgiving, which leads you vertically to Divine forgiveness.

It is a process; forgiveness is not ahead of you but within you. On that journey, you are ground zero; you are the starting point, and the way ahead is the path within. Bon voyage!”

(As printed in Jewels of Elul V: Inspirations on the Art of Forgiving, Pg. 18)

May this Hebrew month of Elul continue to inspire us to acts of self-reflection and personal growth. And may this upcoming High Holiday season bring with it much healing and health, renewal, and spiritual inspiration.

Shanah Tovah U'metukah! A good and sweet New Year to you and yours!

Rabbi Carmit Harari

Presidents' Message

by Sherman Friedman and Sherry Dieckman

It is September and the High Holidays are upon us. Hopefully, everyone has submitted their membership forms and made their initial payments or requests for special arrangements. This is the only way to receive High Holiday tickets and admittance to Shir Tikvah High Holiday services. The Reform services will again be held at the Shir Tikvah building and led by Rabbi Zukrow. Rabbi Harari will lead the Conservative services and we have made a change from the previously announced location. CONSERVATIVE HIGH HOLIDAY SERVICES WILL BE HELD AT THE FLOSSMOOR COMMUNITY CHURCH. There was a scheduling discrepancy with the Homewood Science Center for this year.

On August 10, 2022 Shir Tikvah sponsored an Active Shooter Training session. Thirty people attended, including congregants and staff. The training was led by Sgt. Darren Easter of the Homewood Police Dept. Sgt. Easter presented a taped reenactment of an active shooter situation and discussed various tactics that can be used to survive a hostile situation. Active Shooter Training is not something that you want to have to use in your lifetime. However, if you are ever in an Active Shooter situation, you will be thankful for the training. For those of you who were not able to attend, attached is the handout that Sgt. Easter used for his presentation.

In addition to his presentation, Sgt. Easter also took a walk through our building to assess our current security measures. He felt that the security enhancements that we had implemented were appropriate and correct. These included: keeping all building entrances locked, having security at the main entrance for all services and programs, entry to the building controlled by camera and a buzzer system and having fire and intruder alarm systems professionally monitored. In addition, we have installed movement and audio triggered video cameras at each entrance that record. All first floor windows and doors have protective, shatterproof film and we have both external cameras that view the entrance and parking lots and record and an internal camera that views and records the hallway. We will continue to make security a priority and add security equipment as appropriate along with providing ongoing training for congregants and staff. We are very appreciative for the cooperation and support that we receive from the Homewood Police Dept.

We also continue to improve safety in our building for congregants and staff. Recently, Bob Oros, our "Amazing Bob of all Trades" installed railings surrounding the Bimah, to protect against falls. Now in order to enter and exit the Bimah, you must use the ramps on either side. We are very fortunate to have Bob, who treats Shir Tikvah like his own.

As we first informed you in August, Rabbi Harari is now in her tenth year as our spiritual leader. We are pleased to announce that in honor of her dedicated service, Rabbi Harari will be the honoree for our 2022/23 Membership Directory and Ad Book. In addition, our Fundraising Committee is planning a weekend in April to celebrate Rabbi Harari that will include special Shabbat services, a Scholar in Residence and a Sunday brunch. As the year progresses, we will announce more details about this exciting celebration.

We wish all of the Shir Tikvah Family a Healthy, Happy and Safe New Year.

AVOID/DENY/DEFEND

Since 2002, the Advanced Law Enforcement Rapid Response Training (ALERRT)™ program at Texas State University has been used to train law enforcement officers across the nation in how to rapidly respond to dangerous active threat situations.

Over the years we've seen response times shorten and the capabilities of law enforcement increase. As a result of increased public awareness, many citizens have asked what they can do to protect themselves and reduce the dangers faced during one of these events. As we've seen that hiding and hoping isn't a very effective strategy, Avoid Deny Defend® has been developed as an easy to remember method for civilians of all ages and abilities to follow.

AVOID | DENY | DEFEND™

During an act of violence (robbery, hostage situation, workplace violence, active shooter, etc):

AVOID starts with your state of mind.

- Pay attention to your surroundings
- Have an exit plan
- Move away from the source of the threat as quickly as possible
- The more distance and barriers between you and the threat, the better

DENY when getting away is difficult or maybe even impossible.

- Keep distance between you and the source
- Create barriers to prevent or slow down a threat from getting to you
- Turn the lights off and silence your phone
- Remain out of sight and quiet by hiding behind large objects

DEFEND because you have the right to protect yourself.

- If you cannot AVOID or DENY, be prepared to DEFEND yourself
- Be aggressive and committed to your actions
- Do not fight fairly. THIS IS ABOUT SURVIVAL.

Call 911 when you are in a safe area.

When Law Enforcement arrives, show your hands and follow commands.

ACTIVE SHOOTER TRAINING WAS HELD IN AUGUST

The Homewood Police Department was booked to hold an Active Shooter Training session with Shir Tikvah members. There was a large crowd and the training session was very informative and helpful!

Have a sweet year!

D'Var Torah by Rachel Latman

Bat Mitzvah held on Saturday, August 13, 2022

Shabbat Shalom! My Torah portion is called VaEtchannan and it translates as "I pleaded". Moses was pleading to enter Israel with the Israelites after God said he couldn't because of the disrespect he showed by not listening and hitting the rock.

My Torah portion also talks about the differences among humanity, and the love of God. From my Torah portion these are the lessons I've learned: First, respect others and their choices not based on the stereotypes of others and the world. This is because when people get stereotyped, they feel like they're in an unbreakable box. An example can be seen in the case of mental health in that everyone has it and one harsh thing can ruin it. Stereotypes can harm mental health by comparing someone to the idea of what the stereotype says a person should be. That can have a negative effect on people with different backgrounds and make them feel like they aren't good enough. It's important to respect others and their choices.

Second, you may make a mistake, and ask for forgiveness, but acknowledge and learn from it. Whatever you do or accomplish, should be a learning opportunity, whether the actions are good or bad. In the case of wrong, stop doing it and change the habit, and in the case of right continue on with courage and disregard the past bad action, because it can ruin relationships with people after wrong doing. Never dwell on the past but learn from it.

Becoming a Bat Mitzvah symbolizes independence and responsibility. From respecting others and their choices to learning from their mistakes. People over time have evolved from not acknowledging differences to celebrating them.

The good thing about acknowledging differences is that people might feel more understood, but on the flip side it can make people feel bad from bullying and other forms of disrespect. One of the positives that comes with acknowledging differences is that people could feel better about themselves and join a community of people like them. In talking to someone you can always just be nice and respectful because they probably don't need another person criticizing them. In becoming a Bat Mitzvah I will work hard to stay active in my community and help others.

Thank you for coming to my Bat Mitzvah. I hope you got something from this morning whether just being here to support me or come to a Saturday morning service. I hope that everyone enjoys celebrating with me and my family.

SHABBAT SHALOM!

Women of Shir Tikvah News

by Gayle Weil

Summer is over, the kids are back in school, and it's time to renew your membership for Women of Shir Tikvah! Membership forms have been sent by email. Please consider sending in your dues.

We have also sent out the form for Holiday Greetings. For $25, you can wish your fellow congregants holiday greetings for the New Year, Chanukah and Passover.

Don't forget to order challahs and baked good for the holidays!

We also are continuing to sell Jewel cards.

Sisterhood will continue providing goodies on Friday nights after services. If you would like to sponsor an Oneg for a special occasion, please let us know.

On behalf of the board of the Women of Shir Tikvah, we wish you a happy and healthy New Year!

Community Shabbat hosted by Temple Anshe Sholom
September 9, 2022
7:30 PM
In person and on Zoom

The award-winning author of Rashi's Daughters, Maggie Anton, has written a wholly transformative novel that takes characters inspired by Chaim Potok and ages them into young adults in Brooklyn in the 1950s — a time of Elvis and Marilyn, communist scares and polio vaccines, postwar Jewish migration to Israel and America. When journalist Hannah Eisin interviews Rabbi Nathan Mandel, a controversial Talmud professor, she persuades him to teach her the mysteries of the text forbidden to women though it might cost him his job if discovered. Secret meetings and lively discussions bring the two to the edge of a line neither dares to cross, testing their relationships with Judaism and each other.

Born to Jewish immigrants, Julius Rosenwald rose to lead Sears, Roebuck & Company in Chicago and turn it into the world's largest retailer. Born into slavery, Booker T. Washington became the founding principal of Tuskegee Institute. In 1912 the two men launched an ambitious program to partner with black communities across the segregated South to build public schools for African American children.
